

H.M.P - Durham

Year 2003/2004

Frenger's range of prison heating products are designed to provide reliable, efficient and unobtrusive heating within secure environments.

The product range includes wall mounted radiators, high level heating panels and ceiling mounted radiant heating. All systems are water driven from a LTHW heating system.

All systems are purpose designed to meet the exacting requirements of "Safe Cell" environments, and have a design life in excess of 25 years.
